

Rinalyn E. Millona

BSIT 2-5

Hi, I'm Rinalyn, and I believe I'm a happy person. I am also a cursed and hostile person when necessary, but kind-hearted and quick to weep over those who deserve it. I am a friendly person, especially when I get along with nonsense and habit, but there are a few people who are afraid and ashamed to come to me because they think I will sleep and I will ignore them. They always tell me so, but they don't come right away because they stare at my eyebrows. My eyes are always their first expression to me, so sometimes I can't help but ask myself if my eyes and eyebrows are really staring? HAHAHA. What those who know me say is that I am cursed, and when I do real talk, I admit that I will tell myself that it is true, but only once when it is really necessary. They still say that even if I am cursed, I am happy with everyone because I just go with everyone and shake, but the real me is noisy, talkative, and naughty. I'm the type of person who's always at home, just doesn't wander around, just wanders around when someone invites me to leave, but often I'm just at home, I enjoy watching TV, I make my nephew cry, and I take care of my nephew. That's all I always do. I also enjoy going out with my friends because we become comfortable with each other, telling secrets and problems that help each of us reduce the weight we carry. It is unavoidable to get angry with friends, but because of that, your friendship becomes stronger. When someone has a problem, we accompany and advise, and because of that, we will solve each other's problems when we work together. I'm also the type of person who prays when there's a problem. I tell him everything and sometimes cry to him. I just want to be alone so I can think better. I also enjoy listening to music, watching vlogs, watching movies, eating, and sleeping. I'm the type of person who hasn't had a boyfriend since birth, so when people ask me who's had a boyfriend, I say I've never had one but many people don't believe me. They say I'm beautiful. Why is it that no one is flirting? I always answer them that there are people who are flirting but I just don't want to because I'm not ready yet and I'm still young. Many more will come, maybe not yet, but at the right time I'm ready. That's my real story, and that's my true character, and that's me. If you don't accept me, it's okay. I can't do anything that's me! I can't change. I don't need to show people so that they like me. That's really me. I accept my temperament and my personality. I am grateful because you are one of the ones who make me happy, especially my family and friends, who build on my shortcomings as a person. Thank you very much.

